CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor
HOPKINSVILLE, MAY 1, 1883.

We are authorized to announce Capt. Ralph Sheldon of Nelson county, as a candidate for re-election as Register of the Land Office, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August, 1883.

Mac and Slade, the pugilists, have gone to Europe.

Georgia's new governor will be inaugurated May 12th.

Patti and Nicolini, the actresses, sailed for Europe last week.

Fifteen counties in the State have recommended Crumbeugh for Secretary of the Navy.

The Democrats in the Ninth Senatorial district have nominated Hon. W. W. Bush, of Franklin.

Chas. W. Foster, the venerable father of Gov. Foster, of Ohio, died Thursday last, aged 83 years.

Mrs. Langtry's no profits in America, during her 24 weeks' engagement, will foot up $20,000,000.

Henry D. McDaniel, the Democratic nominee, was elected Governor of Georgia without opposition April 24.

Wiggin's storm was probably delayed a couple of months. After all, he was nearer right than those who laughted at him.

Col. Sam McKee, of Louisville, who was disbarred from practicing in the Federal court for charging an illegal pension fee, has been tried and his disabilities removed.

Messrs. B. M. DeGraffenreid and R. Merrill Hall have purchased the Clarksville Democrat from Mr. M. V. Ingram. They are spoken of as capable, enterprising young men.

It is probable that Judge Headley, of Cincinnati, will receive the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio. Judge Headley was temporary chairman of the National convention in 1880.

Hon. W. J. Hendrick, of Fleming county, who was a candidate for Speaker of the last Legislature, was defeated in a recent primary election by Hon. R. K. Hart and consequently will not be returned to the next Legislature.

Congressman Jno. D. White, of the Tenth Kentucky District, was married at East Bridgewater, Mass., April 24, to Miss Alice M. Harris, daughter of Ex-Congressman Harris. They have gone to the Pacific slope on a bridal tour.

R. C. Walker, of the Crittenden Press and Capt. Shields, of the Clinton Democrat, each, like Peck's had boy's pa, have a new baby to help make things interesting at home and they are giving their readers a series of leaders on catnip tea, soothing syrup, etc.

"First blood for Buckner," excitedly exclaimed some of our exchanges when Logan county held a premature convention and instructed for the new from Christian reaches them. Knott carried this county without even visiting it.

Jno. DeLong shot and killed Mrs. Eliza Griswold, at Leavittsburg, Ohio, because she would not marry him, and then killed himself. The woman was a middle aged widow and was old enough to have known better than to trifle with the affections of a man.

A destructive cyclone swept over Georgia and Mississippi last week carrying death and desolation in its path. Beauregard and Wesson Miss. were almost totally destroyed. It is estimated that 200 persons were killed and the loss of property was so great that no estimate has been attempted.

Mr. Knott upon being interrogated in regard to his position on the question of pardons expressed himself as follows:

"It is the duty of the Governor as it is of the Judge on the bench, to administer the law, and to see that no innocent man is punished, and that no guilty man escapes."

Another newspaper man has commenced matrimony and been sentenced to a life time of felicity. Mr. Ben F. Briggs, editor of the Mayfield Monitor, was married Thursday April 26th to Miss Mario S. Rives, of Mayfield, Ky. He has hitherto borne a good reputation and this is his first offense. Who will be the next bachelor editor to fall by the wayside? If the epidemic gets much worse we intend to "take to the woods."

If the Danville Tribune will permit us to make a suggestion while it is nominating Gubernatorial tickets, we would recommend the following ticket of colored Republicans:

FOR GOVERNOR,
HON. ALLEN ALLENSWORTH, of Logan.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOE,
HON. ISAIAH JONES,
of Christian.

Of all the tickets presented, not one had a representative of the colored Republicans upon it and as they are an important factor of the "Grand old Party" we think they should divide the honors with their white fellow-Republicans. "Let justice be done though the heavens fall," and let the color d brother have some of the chickens pie.

SCANDAL AND TRAGEDY.

Hon. Phil. B. Thompson, Member of Congress, kills Walter Davis.

Harrodsburg Junction the Scene of the Crime—The History of the Cause of the Affair.

The most thrilling tragedy that has occurred in Kentucky since the murder of Judge Jno. M. Elliott by Col. Thos. Buford, was enacted at Harrodsburg Junction Friday, the slayer being Congressman Phil. Thompson and the victim Walter P. Davis, a prominent citizen of Harrodsburg. The killing was brought about by an alleged scandal in which Davis and Thompson's wife were the principals.

A few years ago Mrs. Thompson was ill, and the doctors ordered stimulants, of which she partook till an appetite formed for intoxicating liquors, and she became addicted to drink to the great grief of the family, persisting in heavy potations despite the efforts and entreaties of her husband and relatives.

When Thompson departed for Washington, at the beginning of the last session of Congress, his wife accompanied him to Cincinnati, where he left her, she to return home the same day. She, however, met Mr. Cincinnati Walter Davis, who induced her to remain over night, and, knowing her appetite for it, furnished her with liquor, took her ostensibly to the theater, but at 9 o'clock returned to his room at the hotel, whence in an hour he turned her out in a helpless condition, thus exposing her shame and my dishonor. Afterwards she was taken to Mrs. Buckner's room by the watchman and the proprietor of the hotel in an unconscious, drunken condition. My domestic relations are all broken up; my little daughter, whom I love better than any one on earth, is now exiled from home and friends, an outcast from society, in consequence of Davis' desire to gratify his basest lust and publish my dishonor to the world. Night after night has my daughter sobbed herself to sleep on my bosom. Not all his blood is worth her tears, and if he had a thousand lives it all could not atone for the broken happiness and household misery he has caused. I throw myself on the justice of my countrymen, and feel that every man who loves his family and his fireside, and who has the courage to defend them, will justify me in my course."

This speech was delivered with great calmness, though with evident heart-felling, which communicated itself to all who heard the words and created a sympathy for the man who uttered them.

Judge Hardin, with emotion in his tone, said: "It is perhaps not proper for me as a Judge to express the sympathy I feel as a man. I shall therefore simply state that I hold Mr. Thompson in $5,000 bail to answer any indictment."

The bail bond was promptly given, signed by John B. Thompson and T. H. Hardin.

THOMPSON'S WIFE.

Mrs. Thompson, the cause of the killing, is a beautiful woman whose love for liquor brought about her ruin. She was Miss Mollie Garner and was married to Thompson about sixteen years ago. She has two children, a daughter and a son, as stated above.

THE VICTIM.

The father of Walter P. Davis was the late Col. Robert M. Davis, who came from Tennessee in his boyhood and was adopted by a distant relative, Davis Mosely, who afterwards died and left his valuable estate to Davis. Besides the victim of yesterday's shooting, Col. Davis had four children, viz: Henry II. Davis, of Chicago, formerly a banker at Harrodsburg; Crit Davis, a well-known turman, and two daughters, now married. Walter Davis, as did all the other heirs of his father, inherited a handsome sum of money and engaged in the grocery business in Harrodsburg. He had just sold out his business with a view to removing to Chicago. He was regarded as an up-right, high-toned, honorable man. His wife was Miss Lavinia Herring, step-daughter of ex-Gov. Jas. F. Robinson.

Metcalfe & Bro's Column.

The firm of C. W. METCALFE & BRO. are still in the front. They have sold four car loads of their Old Reliable Deering Machine, which so generally won the victory over all competitors last year. It is an undoubted fact that the Deering is second to none in manufacturing. Examine it with its 1882 improvements, at their store. It has fifteen less pieces than any other Binder in this market, consequently not so complicated, and is more durable.

The stoutest, most substantial, most durable and lightest Draft Binder in this market, is the Deering. See it at Metcalfe & Bro's.

name and plied her with whisky till she was completely under his influence, when he accompanied her ostensibly to the theater. They returned to the hotel at 9 o'clock, she in a debilitated condition from drink. She attempted to go to Mrs. Buckner's room, and he insisted upon her going to his room, where she remained with him for more than an hour and where he debauched her, then turned her out in a helpless condition, thus exposing her shame and my dishonor. Afterwards she was taken to Mrs. Buckner's room by the watchman and the proprietor of the hotel in an unconscious, drunken condition. My domestic relations are all broken up; my little daughter, whom I love better than any one on earth, is now exiled from home and friends, an outcast from society, in consequence of Davis' desire to gratify his basest lust and publish my dishonor to the world. I throw myself on the justice of my countrymen, and feel that every man who loves his family and his fireside, and who has the courage to defend them, will justify me in my course."

Davis is the third man Phil Thompson has killed. During the trial of a law suit in Harrodsburg in 1873 a shooting affray took place between Theo. H. Daviess and his three sons on one side and Phil B. Thompson, Jr., and three sons on the other. In this affair T. H. Daviess, Sr., T. H. Daviess, Jr., and Larue Daviess were killed, and two of the Thompson's slightly wounded. The two younger Daviess were killed by Phil B. Thompson, Jr., one of them after he had emptied his pistol and escaped from the court house in which the shooting took place. Thompson followed him up and shot him in the back as he was running to his office. These Daviess were not related relatives of his slayer.

Thompson is Secretary of the National Democratic Committee, and is one of the most prominent men in the State. The affair is universally regretted, but public sympathy seems to be with Thompson.

Messrs. Knott and Jones met in joint debate at Owensboro, Calhoun and Henderson last week. The Messenger says Col. Jones was badly used up in the debate at Owensboro and lost his temper and spoke of Mr. Knott as a demagogue, buffoon and clown. Col. Jones stated that he was a college graduate and had traveled over Europe and the way Knott turned this to account was highly entertaining. He said if Col. Jones could not govern his own temper in a friendly debate he was hardly the proper person to govern a great people. Col. Jones replied that he was "in the best humor in the world," but refused to travel with Mr. Knott, and they went to Calhoun in different buggies. At Henderson Knott again got the best of the discussion on there they partied.

It Seems That Knott has Carried The County.

The Primaries Saturday Instruct For Knott, Allen, Hardin, Sheldon, Edgar, Hewitt and Tate.

The full returns from the precinct conventions in Christian county last Saturday have not been received, but enough is known to show how the county has gone. In the Register's race Sheldon is ahead, but it may be that Corbett will beat him when all the returns are in. In the other races there is but little doubt that the county has given a majority to the candidates named above. The delegates appointed will assemble here next Saturday and carry out their instructions. The delegates must bear in mind that their credentials must be signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the convention appointing them or they will not be admitted to the county convention in the event of a contest.

THE RESULT.

Hopkinsville No. 1.—Knott, Allen, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Sheldon and Edgar.

Hopkinsville No. 2.—Knott, Allen, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Corbett and Edgar.

Pembroke, 3.—Knott, Allen, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Corbett and Edgar.

Longview, 3.—Buckner, Allen, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Sheldon and Smith.

Union School House No. 1, 1.—Knott, A. B. Smith, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Corbett and Edgar.

Crofton, 1.—Jones, Allen, R. A. Jones, Hewitt, Tate, Corbett and Edgar.

Hamby, 1.—Jones, Allen, Hardin, Hewitt, Tate, Sheldon and Pickett.

Lafayette No. 1, 2.—Knott, Allen, Jones, Tate, Hewitt, Sheldon and Pickett.

Hopkinsville No. 2 was organized in Buckner & Woodbridge's warehouse, with T. J. Morrow as Chairman and Chas. M. Meacham Secretary. About 150 voters were present and the convention was red hot. There were 19 Jones men. On the second count the vote stood Knott 59, Buckner 58. The meeting closed harmoniously.

At one time "votes were votes" in No. 2, and a good joke is told on one of the candidates. A saloon man wanted to go to the convention, but couldn't leave his saloon and the candidate kept bar for him while he went and put in his vote. When the proprietor returned he said to him, "I have done many things to get votes in this canvass, but I never ran a saloon before."

Sheldon's prospects continue to grow brighter as the returns come in, and the latest indications are that he has carried the county. The vote between him and Corbett stands 16 to 15 with Barker's Mill, Fairview No. 1 and No. 2, Fruit Hill, Seales' Mill, Wilson's and Stuart's to hear from. It is thought that the first three predictents with four votes have gone for Sheldon which will give him the county, as some of the remaining districts did not hold conventions.

Carpets are bought by the yard and worn by the foot—Bowling Green Progress.

“Come, O gentle spring, ethereal mildness, come; come, O gentle subscribers, and save us of the dunces—Dixon Record.

“Here, now,” said a mother to her little boy, “take this good medicine. It’s sweet as sugar.” “Mamma, I love little brother the boy replied; “give it to him.”—Arkansas Traveler.

Whatever the revolutionists had to do in Ireland they are doing with all their dyna-mites, which seems like the widows mite, to be more than them all—Bowling Green Gazette.

The West is sometimes called the land of wonders, from the fact, we suppose, that a good many who go there wonder how in the dicken they are going to get back home.—Glasgow Times.

When they told a Kentucky father that his boy had been living in the mountains of Colorado, he comforted himself with the reflection that his son was a mighty high-strung fellow, anyway.—Glasgow Times.

The Kansas editors are booked for an excursion in May. As they have not yet decided where to go, we deem it wise to announce that small-pox continues to prevail to an alarming extent throughout Colorado.—Dyer's Tribune.

We don’t notice any change in things since the days of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob—of the strongest sheep firm in the country. Dogs killed sheep and husbands kissed servant girls then just the same as now.—State Journal.

A Kentucky debating society is wrestling with the conundrum: Which is worse, for a man to hook a cow or have the cow hook the man? The answer is supposed to be stowed away somewhere about the bovine twintie.—Bowling Green Gazette.

A young lady was recently asked by her galant what she considered the height of impudence. Looking archly at him she said: “Spark a girl for three solid hours and never offer to kiss her.” It is needless to add that he is not so impudent now.—Wheeling Journal.

Rumor asserts that the Kentucky mountain eagle, John D. White, has been captured by a Massachusetts lady, and will be led to the hymeneal after this month. The census statement that there are more females than males in Massachusetts is undoubtedly correct.—Glasgow Times.

“You naughty boy!” exclaimed Mrs. Dr. Grasswell, turning to her son. “You ought to be ashamed of yourself, to kill flies in your book. I was going to make a preacher out of you, but if you don’t destroy everything, I’ll make you study medicine under your father.”—Arkansas Traveller.

We don’t want to be understood as being a constitutional kicker, like that ugly devil in the Louisville Commercial, but we do wish our exchanges wouldn’t wrap their papers in their old love letters. One of these economical wrappers slipped off in our overcoat pocket the other day. It was warm, and the overcoat was left at home. That’s all we have to say just now.—Sunday Argus.

Two mountaineers who came down on a raft struck the head of Main street yesterday, and took in Frankfort for the first time. One of them came down, the middle of the street and the other took the sidewalk. After passing about half a block the man on the sidewalk called to his companion: Say, Bill, what are you walkin’ in the middle of the road fur? Why don’t you come and walk on the health?”—Yeoman.

The associated press telegraphed over the country this week that an immense meteor, covering an acre of ground, had fallen near Williams ranch, Texas, sinking into the ground one hundred feet, burying beneath it the house of M. Garcia containing the proprietor, his wife and five children. The phenomenon becomes unpronounceable when it is known that Joe Muhattan, Kentucky’s phenomenal liar, now resides in Texas.—Mayfield Democrat.

KELLEY STATION.

Owing to the incessant rain, farming is about suspended.

Dr. Newland was in our midst last week.

F. W. Owen has set up again here with a full and complete stock of groceries.

Mr. Dunophen moved out of the Station last week, also our friend Blaeford has absconded, and in return Mr. Abner Herre moved to this place the same week, and will make this his home for some time.

Virgil Fields will furnish the people of Kelley with his fascinating good looks for a season.

Miss Laura Newcomb, is the guest of Mrs. Ford this week and has been for the last fortnight. She is of your city, and one of our best farmers will loose the work of one hand while things go on thusly.

We were under a mistake about G. H. Moore buying a new set of blacksmith tools.

Died April 14th of heart disease, Saady Cotton, an old and respected citizen. He was some where in 80.

F. W. Owen, Sr., has been very ill with liver complaint, or consumption. He is better now.

One of our Station friends writes fourteen love letters every day and they can’t answer all of his lovely letters. We aim to apply for sub-writership. Please give us a model.

A good fruit crop is now pending here.

On account of so much wet weather our farmers are over-burdened with work, though a great many have commenced planting corn; most all have a little planted, and if the rains will stop for a few days they will get done planting and turn their attention to tobacco raising. Large crops both corn and tobacco will be planted here if a favorable opportunity is afforded them, while in connection with the above a good wheat crop will be reaped this coming summer, which will help them very much, though they have plenty of old corn on hand. People may talk of this State and that State, and where the baked shoot walks around with a knife and folk in its back, but this is a country good enough for anybody.
